

PSYG-609 : Personnel Selection and Training

One of two courses providing an advanced examination of the application of psychological principles to organizational and work settings. A focus on concepts unique to this domain, including: personnel selection, diversity & inclusion, recruiting, utility theory, and training.

Credits 3

Instructional Method

LEC

Semester Offered

Fall