BUS-250 : Applied Data Analysis for Business, Decisions

The managerial use of statistical concepts and methods to address real world business problems. Emphasis is placed on the utilization of quantitative methods as applied to business decision making and operations. Applications of technology for data analysis and management will be included as an integral part.

Credits 3

Instructional Method

LEC

Required Prerequisites

Prerequisite: One math course-must be MAT-175 or an equivalent statistics course.

Recommended Prerequisite: 3 credits of ACC/BUS/ECO courses.

Semester Offered

Fall

Spring